LOVE YOUR FELLOW

Reaching out to your fellow Jew with patience, love, concern, and unity is a fundamental precept in the Torah. It's the foundation of Judaism, the bedrock of our civilization. Be kind to others not because they will be kind to you, but because you recognize the divine spark within. Reach out to help another not because of what they do but because of who they are, a human being created in the image of G-d. Every Jew is part of a single soul, radiating into many bodies, each on their unique mission. Together, we form one unit made up of many parts. One body with many limbs. At our source, we are all one.

What act of kindness can you do for another today? Smile at someone. Say hello and thank you. Call someone to see how they are. Always be on the lookout to do a favor for another. Bring Jewish people together. Tear down the false barriers of age, affiliation and ethnicity. Follow Hillel's golden rule. Don't do to others what you don't want others to do for you.
